Join us for an introduction to the Utility of the Future Recognition Program for water sector utilities! The webinar will also take you through the details of how to apply for recognition in 2018 and hear from a peer utility that is in the program now.

The Utility of the Future Today Recognition Program seeks to recognize the achievements of forward-thinking, innovative water utilities engaged in providing resilient value-added service to communities. The Recognition Program, through the aggregation and sharing of utility practices and experiences, enables participants to learn from each other as they grow and sustain their efforts to be, and continually advance the concept of, the Utility of the Future. To date, 78 utilities have been recognized under this innovative program. A list of these organizations and more information is available on the Utility of the Future website.

This webinar will include:

- Background information on the Recognition Program's development, collaborating partners, and goals of the program;
- Information about how to apply for recognition; and
- An opportunity for participant Q & A with Recognition Program partners.

This is a great opportunity for your utility to apply to receive national recognition by leading organizations and your peers. EPA, NACWA, WaterReuse, WEF, and WRF encourage you to apply. Applications will be accepted until May 30th!
